The Principal, Dr. C.L.V.R.S.V.Prasad initiated the event by planting the saplings in the village. He Addressed the villagers on the occasion, he appealed them to plant more no. of trees for the pure environment. NSS Volunteers planted almost 50 saplings in the village and watered them. The event was accomplished under the guidance of Dr.G.Sasi Kumar, Associated Dean-Students Affairs and Dr.M.V.Nageswara Rao, Associated Dean-Academics. Sri.P.A.S.Babu Rao, Sarpanch, Sri.G.Govinda Rao, Vice-Sarpanch, Sri.P.Rami Naidu, Society Director and other village leaders and villagers, 50 NSS Volunteers were participated. Programme Officer, NSS unit Dr.K.V.S.Prasad has coordinated the event.

World Environment Day

The theme for World Environment Day 2021 is “Ecosystem Restoration” and will see the launch of the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration. Ecosystem restoration can take many forms: Growing trees, greening cities, rewilding gardens, changing diets or cleaning up rivers and coasts. This is the generation that can make peace with nature. In this connection the NSS units of our college enthusiastically celebrated the World Environment Day on 5th June 2021 by organizing plantation programme at grand manner. Dr. A. Venkata Ramana, HoD of CSE Department inaugurated the program by planting a sapling. Due to lockdown the NSS volunteers celebrated the day by planting different saplings in the gardens of their homes. Dr. Bh. Arun Kumar, Physical Director, Mr.A.Sai Prasad, CSO, Horticulture department staff, Security Staff and other staff members participated in the event. Dr. K.V.S.Prasad, NSS Programme Officer coordinated the event.
